You can identify critical data about the companies and individuals you do business with. The Business Credit Report is compiled using data from Experian, Dun & Bradstreet and Equifax. Utilizing data from one single credit bureau is not enough; each has its own limitations and fails to provide a full picture of the business. By combining the data from multiple sources, Info Cubic's Business Credit Report provides a truly comprehensive report. Each report will include the information listed below, provided there is sufficient data held on the business through each credit bureau.

Credit Logic Score

The Credit Logic Score is listed on each report. The score ranges from 0 (high risk) to 100 (low risk) and is determined based on years in businesses, current debt and trade payments.

Company Information

The overview provides information on the business's annual sales, net worth, employee total, company management, type of industry, legal status and other supplemental data when available.

Corporate Linkage

Information on ultimate parent, headquarters, and various branches of the company is provided.

Trends

When available, data on 6 month and quarterly days beyond term is provided in order to identify changes in payment habits.

Legal Filings

Detailed information is provided on any tax liens, judgments or bankruptcies. Data is provided on the type, file dates, status and amounts.

Trade Payment Experiences and Totals

Provided by third party creditors, this data provides supplier's perspective on how the company meets their financial obligations.

Edgar Financial Statements

If the target company is publicly traded and the data is available, the last four years of financial information is provided including, Income Statement, Balance Sheets, Cash Flow, etc.
